QUIET MOVEMENT NOTICED AT MILLS TO GET COAL SUPPLY

Indication of Coal Strike
April 1 Afforded Through
Gentle Hints in Valley

PITTSBURGH COAL TO LEAD

Coal Operators of Bituminous Regions Except Possibly the Vesta Coal Company to Take Same Stand—Most Industries Prepared.

In spite of repeated assurances that there will be no coal strike the first of April in the bituminous regions, manufacturers are preparing for it, and that on a very definite understanding that there will be trouble in the operators and miners reaching an adjustment of a satisfactory scale. In the yards of nearly every mill of the Monongahela valley there is a great stock of coal on hand. However there are exceptions to this rule, but the concerns which are behind on their stock are quietly starting a movement to get in plenty of coal to outlast a strike of ordinary proportions.

Whatever lead is taken by the Pittsburgh Coal company, the largest operating concern in the Monongahela valley will be followed generally by other companies, excepting possibly the Vesta Coal company. And the Pittsburgh Coal company proposes not to hearken to the miners' demands for a 10 per cent advance of wages on the run of mine basis. The Vesta Coal company, controlled by the Jones and Laughlin Steel company and operating extensively at California, Fredericktown and Roscoe on the Monongahela valley, will in all probability take the same stand. The result naturally will be a strike that will endure until such time that the miners and operators can agree on a basis of settlement.

The first people to begin to stock up on coal were the subsidiaries of the United States Steel Corporation, with immense mills at Donora. Yet this corporation operates non-union using its own coal from the non-union Fayette county fields. At Monessen the Pittsburgh Steel company is beginning to stock up a supply of coal and the same is true of every other mill and industry in the Monongahela valley. At Aliquippa, it is stated the Vesta Coal company has unloaded and stored away barge after barge of coal from their large Monongahela valley mines.

One operator of the Monongahela valley, anticipating trouble over the wage scale, let it be known point blank that his company would follow the Pittsburgh Coal company's lead. "But we will close down our mine tight before we will agree to the advance demanded," he announced, "in spite of some important contracts."

If the strike comes there is no indication how long it will last or how severe it will be. There will be instances on both sides and as both sides by the first of April will be pretty well fixed for a fight development may be retarded quite a bit.

MINERS AT THE LILLEY MINES AGREE TO WORK AFTER SCRAP

President of Local Union at Brownsville Forcibly Ejected, It is Said. And Riot Call is Sounded.

A dispute between foreign and American striking employees of the Lilley Coal and Coke company, West Brownsville at a meeting of the local union in South Brownsville Monday afternoon resulted in a riot call, summoning police of the surrounding towns. J. C. Tressler, president of the local union was forcibly ejected from the meeting by foreigners it is alleged. Following the disturbance the meeting was resumed and the striking miners agreed to return to work today.

WILL ORGANIZE HERE AGAINST MORMONISM

Meeting With Elder of Mormon Church as Speaker Planned for Washington Avenue Presbyterian Church on February 17.

Pennsylvania is to be the battle ground of the war against the spread of Mormonism in America and on February 17 the headquarters of the invading force will be in Charleroi.

Elder Vernon J. Danielsen of the Mormon church will come here on February 17 and expose the so-called Mormon infamies in presentable language at 8:15 in the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church, Rev. John R. Burson, pastor.

It is proposed here to enlist all of the Christian women who are concerned in protecting the homes of American women from raids by Mormon elders. Educators, Sunday school teachers, special workers, philanthropists and all manner of active citizens seeking the betterment of the American home are requested to communicate with the Elder Danielsen indicating the department of the progressing warfare in which they can render the greatest service. Exact and verified information concerning aggressions of Mormon missionaries here is most earnestly sought as such facts are to be used in prospective action sought from congress.

Elder Danielsen proposes to show the insidious character of the teaching of the Mormon church which he says "conducts a system of plural marriages which has become such a part of the social and religious life of the Mormon kingdom that the victims of the grossly immoral system find themselves unable to either denounce the system or free themselves from the moral lepers that hold them in eternal bondage in the name of a church and under the threat of eternal damnation frankly promised by the Seer and Prophet of the Mormon church who claims to speak for Almighty God." Rev. C. P. Bastian will be in charge of the Charleroi meeting.

SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT BONDS ARE DELIVERED

Lyons, Singer & Company of Pittsburgh Purchasers of $26,000 Issue For Construction of Additions to High School Building

Bonds are being delivered today by the Charleroi school district through their treasurer, K. W. Daly and solicitor, Hugh E. Fergus, to Lyons, Singer & Company of Pittsburgh, purchaser of the $26,000 issue for the construction of additions to the high school building. The bonds were sold recently to the Pittsburgh company the highest bidders, but the premium paid is not stated.

The issue will be used in carrying out plans drawn some time ago, when a wrinkle of the law prohibiting school bonds from extending over a period of 20 years stopped progress. The school board proposed to issue bonds and had carried out a good part of the arrangements when an attorney of the purchasing company discovered the flaw. There was a halt until recently, when the matter was reopened.

INTEREST AROUSED BY EVANGELISTIC EFFORTS

Evangelistic services began in the First Presbyterian church under favorable circumstances. A representative audience greeted the evangelist, Rev. S. G. Noble Monday evening and from the first song to the benediction there was not a dull moment. Rev. Noble complimented the hearty singing of the choir and congregation. The "Junior Choir" also assembled in bright array to greet the evangelist and help start the campaign. Rev. Whipkey announced that the Juniors were so well prepared that they could sing their song backward—and the children politely turned their backs on the congregation and sang, "There is Sunshine in My Soul," to the amusement of their elders.

The evangelist was in good voice and delivered a rousing good sermon on "Revivals," as a foundation for the work of the campaign. By way of introduction he said that a revival was the most natural thing in the world and above all things scriptural.

In outlining his discourse Rev. Noble declared a three-fold purpose to revive luke-warm Christians; recall back-sliders, whom he doesn't believe in, whom he believes that every church is burdened with nevertheless, and to win souls for Christ. His method is prayer and personal work on the part of Christians. A saying was quoted from Dr. Farrey, "Any church can have a revival that will pay the price," and the congregation was enjoined to "Pray as though everything depends upon God and work as though everything depends upon you."

After singing "I would be Like Jesus" which was called for from the congregation the benediction

At 10 o'clock this morning at St. Jerome's the wedding of Miss Venus Braddock and Andrew Cosner took place, Rev. W. D. Fries performing the ceremony. The couple were attended by Ada Cacan and John Cosner.

CHARACTERISTIC SERMON IS PREACHED BY REV. CORLI

Rev. Walter M. Corli, pastor-evangelist who this week is assisting Rev. W. G. Carl in evangelistic and revival work at the First Baptist church preached a characteristic sermon Monday evening. He will preach this evening at the usual hour.

VALESKA SURATT TO APPEAR IN "THE IMMIGRANT"

Valeska Suratt, one of the most famous actresses on the American stage will be seen at the Coyle theatre this evening in "The Immigrant." Miss Suratt is first seen as a poor Russian immigrant bound for America. Later she is given ample opportunity to wear many of the striking gowns for which she is so justly famous. One of the most thrilling of the scenes is the blowing up of a great dam.

NEW MINE POSSIBLE NEAR COUNTY SEAT

Test Wells Drilled to Determine Sort Of Coal There is—Hundreds of Acres Owned by John W. Donnan and Associates of Washington

Rumors are afloat that within the next several months a coal mine will be opened just west of Washington along the Baltimore & Ohio railroad with a view to developing hundreds of acres in that section, the coal of which is owned by John W. Donnan and associates, of Washington.

The fact that two test wells have already been put down on the Weirich farms and that another is being drilled on the S. K. Weirich estate gives some credence to the reports that this territory may be developed in the near future.

The two test wells that have been completed were sunk on the S. A. Weirich and W. R. Weirich farms. The coal vein was reached at a depth of 437 feet on one and on the other at 412 feet. The third is now down over 200 feet.

While it is impossible to secure any information as to the analysis of the coal vein located, it is known that it is of a good quality, practically the same in every respect as that mined in the workings located near Washington. The vein is about six feet thick.

Hundreds of acres of coal, including that under all the Weirich farms, with the exception of the S. K. Weirich estate, and those adjacent thereto are owned by John W. Donnan and associates. The coal under the S. K. Weirich farm has never been sold.

The report that a new mine is to be opened in the district says that the present owners of the coal vein will be the operators. It is known that these men have discussed the advisability of the project and are at least giving it serious consideration.

NORTH CHARLEROI COUNCIL UNABLE TO HOLD MEETING

MANY APPLICATIONS HEARD

Busy Day Spent at County Seat in Opening up Cases—Some Applications Opposed From Various Sources.

Judge J. A. McIlvaine, sitting in license court for possibly his last time made his position in regard to the granting of licenses plain Monday in opening court.

"I am not a 'whiskey' judge and I do not intend to be; and what is more I will not be owned by any organization, booze gang or woman's temperance union," said Judge McIlvaine and continued:

"While it is beyond my power to say on what days a saloon may be kept open and on what days it shall be closed it is my earnest wish that saloonkeepers conform to the same rules by which men in other lines of business are governed."

Referring to the Brooks' law, Judge McIlvaine said it was on the law books and while his sympathies were with the temperance folk, he could not change the law in any particular. He also said that he had no jurisdiction to tell hotel keepers to close their saloons on holidays.

Before giving his dissertation on license and his rights in the matter, Judge McIlvaine went through the list of applications and in 19 minutes 29 applications against which no remonstrances or charges had been filed.

Transfer is Sought.

After speaking at length on the rights of the court in the granting and refusal of license, Judge McIlvaine went on with the applications for license against which remonstrance had been made new licenses and transfers. W. B. Risbeck of the Irondale hotel, Donora applied for the license now held by C. F. Cardon. Mr. Cardon was called to the stand and testified that he wished to be free of the business entirely. The report of his physician was read by his counsel and was to the effect that his health was failing.

Lazzari Gets a Jolt.

A long discussion was started when the application of Peter and Susannah Lazzari came up. License at this Monongahela hotel had been held formerly by Louis Lazzari, now dead. Mrs. Lazzari and her brother-in-law Peter Lazzari applied for license last year and were refused. Mrs. Lazzari had a petition signed by a number of residents of the Second ward Monongahela.

An unusual feature cropped up when Judge McIlvaine, after a number of witnesses had been called, stated that Peter Lazzari, who is now a partner in the license application was a few years ago indicted for conspiring to break the liquor laws in this county.

John H. Bernarding owner of the Hotel Donora at Donora applied for the license now held by Frank H. Meyer. Messrs. Dodds of Donora, Wilson of Pittsburgh and Dr. Hupp of Carrick all testified to the fitness of

NATURE'S ENDOWMENTS.
Many people make the error of looking upon health as a crude possession that Nature bestows now and again in defiance of her own laws. True, from time to time we meet splendid specimens of manhood and womanhood that apparently resist all usual hardships in an environment which would not seem conducive to good health but in Nature nothing thrives in the long run which is not given proper conditions, says State Health Commissioner Samuel G. Dixon.

Every violation of the laws of Nature makes its impression on the vitality of man who loses his resistance at every blow until the injury is so great that it becomes manifest to our grosser senses.

The maintenance of health is today based upon both science and art. Fortunately it is within the reach of the vast majority of our people and the man or woman who realizes the value of self control has learned the first principle.

Appreciation of the things most worth while never comes from excessive indulgence. A rational life is fairly certain to be an important factor in health and happiness. Many a man or woman whom Nature has endowed with but a medium physique has cultivated and maintained a degree of bodily health sufficient to insure them a rational and pleasurable life. On the other hand many a physical giant has so presumed upon Nature's endowment as to have wrecked that most precious gift—a good constitution.

"PAT-UP WEEK."

The nation-wide movement to set aside the week beginning Monday, February 21, as a "Pay-up Week" is an idea which will prove helpful in promoting a more widespread prosperity and is in accord with a growing spirit of the times, says the Connellsville Courier. Everybody, and more especially those who are in retail business of any character, are becoming to more fully realize that by helping the other fellow they are helping themselves and the community. No more substantial form of mutual helpfulness can be rendered than for everybody to pay their debts.

The prosperity of a community depends in a large measure upon the facility with which men in business or manufacturing can turn over the capital invested in their enterprises. The quicker they receive pay from the consumer for the articles sold, the quicker they can re-invest it in a new, larger or more diversified stock or make improvements or additions to their establishments. This continuing exchange keeps money, the commercial life-blood of the community, in circulation and every person profits in proportion as he has contributed to a stimulation of the process of circulation.

After a long season of lean days people are finding increases in income which are enabling them to discharge the debts they are obliged to incur when times were less auspicious. "Pay-up-Week" will be an excellent time to complete "squaring up" so that the fellow can square up with some one else and thus "Pass Prosperity Around".

* PICKED UP IN PASSING *

Into a family of a nearby town the stork made a visit, leaving a bouncing baby boy. Desiring to weigh the newcomer, the father started out to borrow a pair of scales but was forced after a half hour's canvass of neighboring homes to give up his search.

Just then the iceman came along and the fond papa immediately seized upon his scales. Fussing considerably he managed to fix the infant for weighing. Then he read the scales. They said—47 pounds.

"But I don't know you, madam," protested the paying teller to a woman who had presented a check. The woman instead of replying haughtily,

When you started to town this morning your wife said: 'Now Henry if you want a dinner fit to eat this evening you'll have to leave a little money. I can't keep this house on Christian science.' 'Here is your money,' interrupted the paying teller faintly.

It was rush hour in a local cafeteria, says an exchange one of these quick lunch places where you help yourself and grab a chair and use the arm of the chair as a table. A rush feeder grabbed a slice of pie and popped out a chair. Then he remembered that he needed coffee and he dashed over to the service counter. When he returned with his coffee his chair was occupied by another hurry-up diner.

"Excuse me," said the first man, "but that is my chair."

"How do you know it is your chair?" demanded the occupant in a surly tone.

"Because I can prove it," stated the first man.

"How can you prove it?" asked the occupant.

"By the seat of your trousers," was the reply. "You are sitting on my pie."

Denouncing Medicines.

Wholesale denunciation of proprietary medicines is no more justifiable than wholesale denunciation of the medical profession. It is no more true that there are reputable physicians to an unending struggle with disease than that there are standard remedies which do as good a work; often where the work of the good physician cannot reach. A good example is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which has for forty years been alleviating the sufferings of women and curing the ills peculiar to their sex.

enough to form a real demand for a licensed house.

Temperance witnesses testified that the license was not necessary. They believed there was no great need for either a saloon or a hotel. They said that police protection was very poor in the first ward of Monongahela and that there was no sewage.

Marianna Application
Remonstrances had been filed against the granting of license at Marianna the applicants being Milo Davidson and Carrie C. Kline. The temperance witnesses were called first. They told of how bad conditions at Marianna had been during the past two years. They believed that a hotel was unnecessary and a license unnecessary. While things were not beginning to pick up, the improvements was not so great that a licensed house would be a help and it was not, in their opinion, really needed.

Cases Disposed of Quickly
No features of interest attached to the next few cases before the court. James E. Hayden of Finleyville applied for the license that had been granted to Elizabeth Hayden and her death transferred to him. Four witnesses were brought on by Attorney D. M. McCloskey and all testified to the high moral character of Mr. Hayden and to the reasonable necessity for license in his case. The witnesses were unchallenged by the temperance forces.

Four witnesses were called to testify for John J. Zwick of Finleyville who asks a license for the Hotel Francis. Mr. Zwick was refused license last year. The witnesses averred that there was a reasonable necessity for the license and that Mr. Zwick was a man of high moral character. The witnesses were unchallenged.

A lively tussle developed over the application of Thomas Parry, proprietor of the Hotel Parry of Union township. Mr. Parry was refused license last year on the grounds that his house was not necessary, there not being enough trade to warrant it. Mr. Parry stated on the stand that business conditions were better now and that more traveling men were passing through the district.

The temperance people brought up a complaint that had been made against Mr. Parry at the last license court. It was made by the Pennsylvania railroad and was to the effect that a young man of known intemperate habits had been given liquor at the saloon. In reply, Mr. Parry said he had quit giving the young man booze before the complaint was made.

Fight in Roscoe Case.

The last case of the afternoon and one that aroused a keen fight between the respective lawyers was that of William Coulson of Roscoe against whom specifications had been filed to the effect that Coulson sold liquor in larger than retail quantities. Witnesses for the temperance forces testified that the saloon was a noisy one and disorderly on busy nights. One witness, George Choto, testified that he had bought liquor two quarts at a time and had known others to do the same.

Other witnesses averred they had seen liquor sold to intoxicated men and had seen drunken men thrown out on the sidewalks. Others told of fights within the saloon. None of them, however, was able to say that Mr. Coulson was a man of intemperate habits, one of the charges filed.

Mr. Coulson's witnesses testified that his house was one of the best managed they ever knew of. They said they had never been disturbed by noise from the saloon and testified to the temperate habits of the applicant. Two of Mr. Coulson's bartenders said there had been no fights in the saloon to their knowledge and they knew of no time when booze had been dispensed in other than lawful retail quantities.

Only six applications remain for consideration. It is probable that license court will close this evening.

UNION CITY VICTIM REGAINED HEALTH

Mr. Martinran Finds Good Health After Using Wonderful Remedy.

The suffering of years was ended with the first dose.

Mr. Martinran's experience is told in a letter written a year after taking the remedy, thus proving the permanent nature of the benefits. His words:

"It has been a year since I took your treatment, which I am sure did me a great amount of good. My health at present is good, thanks to your wonderful remedy. I will always recommend it to my friends."

Mayr's Wonderful Remedy gives permanent results for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments. Eat as much and whatever you like. Get one bottle of your druggist now and try it on an absolute guarantee—if not satisfied, factory money will be returned.

Lime Treatment in Tuberculosis

In the May 25, 1912, issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association appeared this statement concerning calcium (lime) medication in the treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis (consumption):

"Under the systematic, continued and persistent regime of calcium assimilation, Van Gieson has seen a number of his patients improve, undergo an excretion of purulent consolidation in the lung, which then receding would appear to contribute to the walling off and closing of the lesion. Hence, with this course of events, the sputum clears up of tubercle bacilli, which finally disappear, and the patients are discharged with healed pulmonary tuberculosis."

Medical journals seldom speak so positively about a remedial agent, yet this testimony coincides with that from many consumptives who have secured like results through the use of Eckman's Alternative.

Since calcium is a constituent of this remedy for pulmonary tuberculosis and allied throat and bronchial affections, its healing power may in some measure be attributed to the manner in which this element is so combined with other ingredients as to be absorbed by the average person and it does not irritate.

Eckman's Alternative contains no opiates, narcotics or habit-forming drugs, so it is safe to try. If your druggist is out of it, ask him to order or send direct to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia.

The out of town members all gave reports of their work, all interesting cases.

Miss Elizabeth Christman, chief probation officer, presented a report for the year just closed and cited a number of cases, showing good reports of juvenile court. The court was established twelve years ago. The report follows:

"There were 97 children before the court; about 80 per cent or 78 being boys and about 20 per cent or 19 girls."

"New cases numbered 71, old cases 20. The children came from various parts of the county, the largest number, 35, being from Washington; Donora followed with 14, and Canonsburg section next with 13. Nearly all of them are Americans, 86 having been born in this country; however, 33 have foreign born parents. Six are Italians and one each negro, English, German, Polish and Slavish."

"Sixty-eight were charged with delinquency, larceny being the chief complaint; 23 with incorrigibility, and six with being neglected. After hearing 52 were returned home on probation; six were placed in other private homes; 15 committed to the Pennsylvania Training school at Morgantown and 23 sent to other homes and institutions."

"Children under 12 years of age, number 33; between 12 and 14 years, 29; over 14 years, 34. It was found that both parents of three children are dead; the fathers of 15 and the mothers of 10 are also deceased; while the parents of 14 are separated. Eight mothers and three fathers had remarried. In the cases of 34 children both parents are living. In 39 families either the father or mother or both are addicted to intoxicants."

"In addition to the 97 children before the court, the cases of 29 children were settled out of court. There were the usual complaints, delinquency, incorrigibility, and neglect and came from Washington, Canonsburg, McDonald, Cecil, Monongahela, Bentleyville and VanVoorhis station. Assistance was rendered in 17 other cases."

"During the year the probation officers made 123 trips to various places besides 14 visits to the children's home. There were 1955 callers in the probation office; 1,624 reports of children received; 599 letters written; 378 cards sent to children. Forty private homes were secured for children."

"There were 148 boys and girls cared for in the Detention home during the year. Thirty-two wards of the court were released during the year, four by death, four by marriage and 24 on becoming of age. At present there are 525 under the care of the court."
